INFORMAL INFORMATION PAPERS ON THE SPECIAL BILL ON THE STATE OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY

Dear Mr. Narasimhan,

Enclosed is a copy of the letter of President Park addressed to Speaker Paik of the National Assembly. Also enclosed is a copy of an informal paper on recent developments concerning the State of National Emergency.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

Following is an unofficial translation of the letter of President Park Chung Hee to Speaker of the National Assembly Paik Too Chin in connexion with the deliberation by the National Assembly of the bill on Special Law Concerning National Security and Defence. The letter was delivered at 12:15, 23 December 1971.

"Since the Declaration of the State of National Emergency on 6 December, I have been reassured as all the people of the Republic had, by correctly recognizing the state of emergency, demonstrated, by deeds and acts, their efforts and cooperation, voluntarily and with determination, to overcome courageously such a state of emergency.

As the Speaker and the members of the National Assembly are well aware, a declaration or determination alone could not resolve everything to overcome this state of emergency. It would be needless to reiterate the necessity for some legislative actions which would support our determination to overcome such a situation.

Fortunately, I think, the bill on the Special Law Concerning National Security and Defence, which was initiated and submitted by all of the DPR Assemblymen, is an appropriate measure that fully reflects the determinations of the people and the position of the Government, and I sincerely wish that the bill would pass through the National Assembly within the current session.*

The state of emergency that I declared on 6 December was based on my sincere belief that our democratic system and peaceful prosperity should be protected from various provocations by the north Korean puppet regime, which has completed preparations for invasion into the south, while avoiding as much as possible the extreme situation that might call for concession of some of our basic rights.

I am sure that the members of the National Assembly, transcending their political party affiliations, will seriously deal with the bill. I would like to emphasize that the passage of this law bill at an earliest possible date is absolutely necessary and indispensable in order to overcome the current emergency state.

If, unfortunately, the bill on Special Law Concerning the National Security and Defence is not passed during the current session of the National Assembly, I would like to make my determination clear that I cannot help but make a tragic resolution to overcome the emergency state.

I expect your wise decision for the disposal of the bill."

*/ The deadline for the session is 29 December 1971.
Information Note:-(Informal)

The National Assembly

a. The NDF "filibusters" against Special Bill concerning national defence and security

On 22 December, the National Assembly Speaker, Paik Too Chin, failed to report before the Assembly plenary session the acceptance of the NDF-drafted special law Bill concerning national security and defence due to "violent filibuster" by the NDF Assemblymen.

The NDF "filibuster" to block the parliamentary proceeding by force was launched around 10 a.m. on the same day, as soon as Speaker Paik attempted to make a report on the Assembly's acceptance of the Bill, which is an initial step toward taking up the Bill on the Assembly agenda. The NDF President, Assemblyman Kim Hong Il, and some 30 other NDF Assemblymen, including floor leader Kim Chae Kwang, reportedly dashed to the Speaker's rostrum, destroyed the gavel and a loudspeaker, and occupied the rostrum to prevent Speaker Paik from presiding over the plenary session.

A group of some 20 NDF Assemblymen also dashed to the rostrum to counter the NDF Assemblymen, but they returned to their seats later without any melee as Speaker Paik left the rostrum under the protection of security guards. (GI, HI, KT and KH, 23 December)

b. Speaker turns the Bill over to the Legislation-Judiciary Committee

At 9 p.m., 22 December, the National Assembly Speaker, Paik Too Chin, in his letters to the floor leaders of the NDF and the DPR, stated that he had to turn the Bill over to the Assembly Legislation-Judiciary Committee for deliberation, exercising his authority, because under the present conditions of the National Assembly the normal procedure for the introduction of the Bill became impossible.

Upon the receipt of the Speaker's letter, the NDF held a number of meetings of its Assemblymen at the main hall of the Assembly where they occupied the rostrum for more than ten hours. They issued a statement that the Speaker's act of omitting the procedure of reporting the acceptance of the Bill to the plenary session was illegal and invalid. They called for the resignation of the Speaker for resorting to such an "expedience" in favour of the ruling Party. The NDF also stated that the Bill was not only subject to the Legislation-Judiciary Committee but also subject to the Home Affairs and National Defence Committees for deliberation.
Meanwhile, DPR floor leader Hyon Oh Bong said that his Party would start deliberations on the Bill at the Legislation-Judiciary Committee at 11 a.m. on 23 December.

(CI, HI and KT, 23 December)

c. Legislation-Judiciary Committee

As of 2 p.m. 23 December, the Legislation-Judiciary Committee of the National Assembly could not open its session due to the opposition party's "filibuster".

According to the DPR Deputy Floor Leader, Yun Chae Kyong, if the NDP continues its filibuster at the Committee, the DPR would have no choice but take counter measures against the NDP's "filibuster", and would pass the Bill through the Committee sooner than the original plan and that the Committee hold its session at another place, with the participation of only the DPR members. In any event, he said, his Party had reaffirmed that the Bill should be passed through the Committee during 23 December. It was reported that the DPR and the NDP had changed most of their members in the Committee and had accorded the seats to young assemblymen in their ranks.

REMARKS OF GOVERNOR OF TOKYO ON NORTH KOREA

Dear Mr. Narasimhan,

Speaking at a luncheon held by the Foreign Correspondents Club in Tokyo on 22 December, Governor Ryokichi Minobe of Tokyo reportedly said that north Korea was more on the alert than China against a possible war, and that children there were learning how to handle weapons and even to operate tanks. He was quoted as saying: "North Korea's hypothetical enemy, I think, is primarily south Korea but also the Soviet Union in case of its possible involvement in a Sino-Soviet war".

Sincerely yours,

THE 13TH ROK-DPRK RED CROSS PRELIMINARY MEETING

Dear Mr. Narasimhan,

The following was reported in the ROK Press:

The 13th ROK-DPRK Red Cross preliminary meeting was held on 17 December at Panmunjom. During a two-hour-and-eight-minute meeting, the two parties again discussed the agenda for the contemplated full-dress meetings.

The parties reiterated their respective proposals and tried to persuade each other to accept their own respective proposals.

Discussions were focused mainly on the matter of "free travel" of family members and relatives dispersed in south and north Korea.

The DPRK Red Cross persisted that "free travel" was a prerequisite for the settlement of the other problems related to the family search campaign and urged the ROK Red Cross to accept its proposals. It stated, inter alia, that with a "free travel" realized the question of "mutual visits" would be solved automatically and would greatly contribute to efforts to achieve a peaceful unification of Korea.

Meanwhile, the ROK Red Cross said that the north Korean proposal for "free travel" was unrealistic since it did not fully realized the present circumstances under which the peoples of the south and the north had been completely divided for the past quarter of a century. It said that the ROK Red Cross proposal was much more realistic and appropriate since it called for "mutual visits" of family members.

The ROK Red Cross strongly urged its counterpart to accept its proposal made at the 11th preliminary meeting on 3 December, in order to expedite the commencement of the full-dress meetings.

Mr. C. V. Narasimhan
Chef de Cabinet
United Nations
New York
After the meeting the ROK side stated that the current talks would not make any progress so long as its counterpart persisted in its demand for "free travel".

On 22 December, the ROK side announced the agreement of the parties to hold their 14th preliminary meeting between 10 and 15 January 1972.

I retain my educated guess that in the absence of an unusual breakthrough, which is rather unlikely, the stalemate will linger for quite some time.

Sincerely yours,

A SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT MADE
BY THE US AMBASSADOR TO THE ROK

Dear Mr. Narasimhan,

On 20 December, US Ambassador to the ROK, Mr. Philip C. Habib, delivered an address to the members of the Kwanhun Club. This speech presumably is intended to alleviate certain disagreements between the ROK and the US, and to reassure Koreans concerning some fears entertained by them. Excerpts from his address follow:

"... The United States has a mutual defence treaty with Korea. Our highest policy makers have stated on countless occasions that we intend to keep our commitments.

"The lives given here as well as large military and economic assistance, lend great credence to that commitment. The substantial growth of American private investment here and our fast-developing educational and cultural ties add further to the American interest in Korea. To my mind there should be no question of the validity of our responsibilities under the Mutual Security Treaty.

"Korea has a vital stake in the lessening of tensions in this area. My government is cognizant of the determination of Koreans to live in peace and independence. My government has made it clear that the President of the United States is not going to meet with the leaders of the People's Republic of China to make agreements affecting the fate of Korea. The United States will not seek accommodation with Peking at the expense of anyone else. It is as clear and as simple as that.

"The President's visit is not a problem for our allies in Asia. It is a new opportunity for all of us to begin to construct a durable era of peace in the region -- one which would benefit Korea as much, if not more, than most other nations. To realize that goal will require steadfast faith in each other. I am sure our two peoples will be equal to that task."

INfiltrations by North Korean agents in 1971: CECOH

24 December 1971

Dear Mr. Narasimhan,

On 20 December, the ROK Counter-Espionage Operations Headquarters (CECOH) announced that as of the end of November a total of 177 North Korean espionage agents had infiltrated on 59 occasions into the ROK by land and sea. Of those agents 68 had been killed and 28 captured while seven had surrendered. Casualties of the ROK during the counter-espionage operations had been 39 killed and 76 wounded.

The CECOH further said that the north, taking advantage of the current Red Cross talks between the south and north, had increased the despatch of its espionage agents into the ROK. The agents had been charged with missions to create campus unrest, kidnap ROK citizens living in remote coastal and mountainous areas, lure influential figures in the government and political parties to the cause of the north, and abduct fishing vessels and airplanes to the north.

Upon reading news items concerning this announcement, the members of the Committee asked the Principal Secretary to request pertinent briefings on the matter from authorities concerned.

Sincerely yours,
