"Letter from Alan C. Goodison, Eastern Department of the Foreign Office, to C. J. Audland, British Embassy in Buenos Aires", June 22, 1964, Wilson Center Digital Archive, British National Archives, FO 371/175844. Originally published in Avner Cohen and William Burr, eds., National Security Archive Electronic Briefing Book #432 (June 25, 2013). <https://digitalarchive.wilsoncenter.org/document/117131>

Summary:

Noting some inaccuracy in the Canadian Defence Research Board report---Argentina could not have offered to sell its "entire production" of uranium if it was also selling concentrate to Germany and trying to sell it to Japan—Goodison, of the Foreign Office's Eastern Department, asked Audland, a political officer at the British Embassy in Buenos Aires, to "keep your ears to the ground" to find the "exact quantities" involved.

Thank you for your letter 1244/64 G

of June 4 about sales of Argentine uranium concentrate.

2. It would seem from what you have been able to find out ^{that} the original Canadian report was inaccurate. The Argentine Government can hardly have concluded an agreement for the sale of the entire Argentine production of uranium concentrate to Israel if they have also sold uranium to West Germany and offered it to Japan. We should be grateful if you would continue to keep your ears to the ground bearing in mind (though I realise there is a full order) that what we and the Defence Intelligence Staff really want to know is the exact quantities of uranium concentrate involved in any sales.

4. I am sending copies of this letter to Kellas in Tel Aviv, Maitland in Cairo, Ramsbottom in Paris, ~~Wright in Washington~~, Atwell in the Defence Intelligence Staff and Redpath in the C.R.O.

The D.I.S. have now ~~obtained permission to pass this in the original Canadian information to the Americans with Canadian permission~~, passed the information on which my letter of April 29 was based to the Americans. There would therefore be no objection to Patrick Wright, to whom I am sending a copy of this letter, mention this correspondence to the State Department.
