On March 14, 1944, during a visit to Los Angeles GREGORI KHEIFETS, Vice Consul for U.S.S.R., San Francisco, met subject at the Russian Consulate in Los Angeles and during the time both were at the Consulate subject and KHEIFETS were observed to walk back and forth outside behind the Russian Consulate for a period of approximately twenty minutes, apparently deep in conversation.

Also during a visit of KHEIFETS on March 17, 1944, he walked from the Russian Consulate to KALATOZOV's home at 4744 Los Feliz, which is approximately one and one-half blocks from the Consulate, and spent one-half hour from 4:45 P.M. to 5:15 P.M. in KALATOZOV's house. At 5:15 P.M. he returned to the Consulate and after remaining there one-half hour he walked back to KALATOZOV's a second time and spent from 5:45 P.M. until 7:45 P.M. on this date at the KALATOZOV residence.

It appears from information obtained through_______ that KHEIFETS is acquainted with some of the prominent motion picture personnel in Los Angeles, for example, CHARLES CHAPLIN. It also appears that KHEIFETS in his contacts with the subject makes himself current on the status of pictures in which the Russian Government is interested and which are produced in this country. Confidential National Defense Informant _______ in this connection reflects that KALATOZOV and his household personnel are interested in the following seven pictures:

> They Shall Have Music No Greater Love The Russian People Ninotchka Tovarisch Battle for the Ukraine Earl of Chicago

Through a confidential source additional motion pictures of the subject have been obtained and are in the files of the Los Angeles Field Division.

Spot surveillances of subject KALATOZOV who generally travels with his interpreter, ______ indicate that he is in continued contact with various film studios in Los Angeles and with producer and acting personnel of these various studios. In this connection Confidential National Defense Informant ______ indicates that these contacts are in connection with subject's reviewing pictures produced in this country such as those set out above, in which the Russian Government has shown an interest. As an example of the above this source indicates that KALATOZOV has repeatedly requested the Cinema Committee in Moscow to advise regarding the purchase of four pictures produced by SAMUEL GOLDWYN in the United States at a price of $125,000. that the Russian Government purchases these films for use in Russia, and KALATOZOV with his interpreter act as the representatives for these purchases.
